

Comcast Xfinity Privacy Policy

Effective November 17, 2025

We know you care about your privacy and the protection of your personal information^①. We also know it is our responsibility to be clear about how we protect your information. We designed this Privacy Policy to do just that. It explains the types of personal information we collect, and how we collect, use, maintain, protect, and share this information. This Privacy Policy also tells you about the rights and choices you may have when it comes to your personal information.

Some of what we say in our Privacy Policy is required by law, and may at times seem long and complicated, but we've worked hard to try to make our Privacy Policy easy to understand and provide examples where possible. The Xfinity Privacy Center (xfinity.com/privacy) includes more information about:

- How to review and manage your personal information and account activity
- How to manage your preferences, including setting your marketing and advertising preferences, and restricting certain uses and sharing
- How you can better protect yourself online

You can review this Privacy Policy and the information in the Xfinity Privacy Center anytime. If you still have questions, you can contact us^① for more information.

We are part of the Comcast family of companies, which includes NBCU, Sky, and others ("Our Related Businesses") (corporate.comcast.com/privacy-related-businesses).

WHEN THE PRIVACY POLICY APPLIES

This Privacy Policy applies to the information we collect when you use or interact with the business entities, products, services, networks, and platforms^①, including our websites, mobile apps, and other services and devices where this policy is referenced. These may include Xfinity-branded services, Comcast-branded Services, Xumo-branded Services, and other products and services we deliver. This Privacy Policy also applies when you otherwise interact with us. We'll refer to all of these as our "Services" in this Privacy Policy. It also applies to the information we collect about you from third parties.

This Privacy Policy does not apply to the other products, services, websites, and applications^① (mobile or television) that you may use or interact with through Xfinity platforms. It also does not apply where we process your personal information at the direction of business clients for whom we provide services where you have a relationship with those business clients. Instead, the privacy policies of those other parties will apply.

Learn more about when the Privacy Policy applies

Because this Privacy Policy describes the privacy practices for all of our Services, some parts may not apply to you. For example, if you do not subscribe to Xfinity Voice (home phone service) or Xfinity Mobile, we will not collect call detail information. If you do not subscribe to Xfinity Home, we will not collect home security event information.

Some Services may have additional privacy practices that may be described to you in different ways, such as in a separate contract for Comcast Business Services. To the extent there is an overlap between this Privacy Policy and a Service-specific privacy policy, the Service-specific policy or agreement will control with respect to that Service.

This Policy does not apply to the non-Xfinity products, services, websites, and applications that you may use through the Xfinity platforms, and we are not responsible for the practices of the companies providing those offerings. For example, if you subscribe to Xfinity Internet and visit a news or shopping website, the privacy policy for that website will apply. If you use one of our platforms to use another company's streaming service, the privacy policy for that streaming service will apply to information it collects about your activity within the app. Likewise, if you connect your smart thermostat to your Xfinity Home security and automation service, the privacy policy of the smart thermostat company will apply to the information it collects. For more information about how these non-Xfinity products, services, websites, and applications use your information, please review their privacy policies.

THE PERSONAL INFORMATION WE COLLECT AND HOW WE COLLECT IT

To provide you with our Services, we collect your personal information. This can include information that does not directly identify you – such as device numbers, IP addresses, and account numbers. It may also include information that does personally identify you, such as your name, address, and telephone number.

If you allow others to use your Services, we will also collect personal information about those individuals. If you use our Services through someone else's account, we will collect information about you, but it may not identify who you are to us. We may also collect information about you from third parties^①.

We collect this information to provide our Services, communicate with you, respond to your requests^①, and to tailor our Services^① to best meet your needs and interests.

In some of our Services, such as Xumo TV, we may also use technologies to attempt to recognize when different devices are used by the same individual.

Because definitions and rules for a “Do Not Track” standard have not yet been established, including whether such signals must be user-enabled, Comcast does not yet respond to “Do Not Track” signals sent from browsers.

To provide and support the Services, sometimes we use other companies as service providers to transmit, collect, process, or store information for us. Third Parties

Other disclosures to third parties can include:

Social Media Platforms

You may interact with parts of our Services that cause information to be published to your social networks. For example, you may click on a Facebook "like" button, which publishes to your Facebook account that you "like" one of our Services. On those parts of our websites with social network functionality, a social network may be able to collect information about you. For example, if a page contains a Facebook "like" button, Facebook may be able to collect data about your visit to that page, even if you don't click on the "like" button. To control this disclosure of information, please review the privacy policy of the relevant social network and/or sign out of it before you use our Services.

Advertising Partners

We may disclose information to better tailor marketing and advertising on our Services and on third-party platforms. We may use cookies or other technology – including tracking technologies offered by third parties – to deliver personalized advertising to you when you visit other services, including advertising based on your activities on our Services. We also allow our partners, including advertisers and service providers, to use cookies and similar tracking technologies when you use our Services. For more information about the use of cookies and other technologies on our online Services, please see the Cookie Notice (xfinity.com/privacy/policy/cookie notice).

Audience Measurement Companies

We work with business partners to help us measure and analyze how our customers are using our Services. For video, this includes assessing which programs are most popular, how many people watch a program to its conclusion, whether people are watching advertisements, and what programming and video content we will carry on the Services. It also includes determining how our customers prefer to view certain kinds of programming when they use our Services, such as whether they like to watch certain programs live, or if they prefer to view them on demand, on mobile devices, or online. Our business partners may compile this information into reports with aggregated and anonymous statistics that are then made commercially available (for example, a ratings report that indicates what percentage of viewers watched a particular program live vs. on-demand). Xfinity Stream includes Nielsen's proprietary measurement software, which will allow users to contribute to market research, like Nielsen's television ratings. By visiting nielsen.com/digitalprivacy, users can access more information about the measurement software and learn about their choices with regard to Nielsen's measurement.

Non-Xfinity Apps and Partners

Certain Services enable you to interact directly with technology provided by other companies, such as using a non-Xfinity video app available through our Services or accessing our Services through another company's platform or device. When you use our Services in connection with any technology provided by another company, you are directing us to interact with that company and that company may collect information from you and our Services. We may also disclose personal information to third party partners to the extent you elect to participate in programs such as Xfinity Rewards. This Privacy Policy does not cover the privacy practices of other companies. For more information about how those companies use your information, please review their privacy policies. For more information about non-Xfinity apps supported on our video Services, please visit my.xfinity.com/privacy/providers.

Consumer Reporting Agencies

We disclose information that personally identifies you to consumer reporting agencies that may be subject to other laws, including the Fair Credit Reporting Act. These disclosures may include information that helps validate your identity, such as your name, current and former addresses, contact information, Social Security number, government-issued identifiers, your payment history and account status, and other identifying information.

Public Safety Authorities

If you have our Xfinity Voice Service, Comcast will disclose your name and contact information to public safety authorities such as 911/E911 and related emergency services.

Directory Services, Assistance, and Caller ID

Your name, address, and telephone number may be sent to publishers to be printed in directories and posted in online directories. Once that information is printed or posted online, it is outside of our control and may be sorted or repackaged and made available again in different formats by anyone, including data aggregators, for a variety of purposes, including marketing. For a fee, you can choose to have a nonpublished number, which means that Comcast will not provide your name, address, and telephone number for publishing in the phone book and online directories. You can also choose to have a published number, but choose the "omit address feature," which means we will not provide your street address for publishing in the phone book and online directories. If initiating service online, select "non-published" option, otherwise call 1-800-XFINITY to sign up.

We may also make your number, name, and address available to directory assistance (411) providers. If you have a nonpublished number, Comcast will not make your number available through directory assistance. Comcast may still share your name and address with the 411 provider when specified by law (but the provider is not authorized to share your non-published number).

Please note: While the non-published feature will keep your name, address, and telephone number out of printed and online directories over which Comcast exercises control, even a non-published phone number may exist in databases not controlled by Comcast – if, for example, your present telephone number or address was previously published under your name, or if you provided this information to businesses or government agencies. One way to help protect your privacy may be to request assignment of a new telephone number (with which your name has not previously been associated). You may also want to activate Caller ID Blocking or select the do-not-call option.

Caller ID provides your name and telephone number to the person you are calling – even if you have a nonpublished number. Per Line Caller ID Blocking will automatically block Caller ID for all calls you make from your registered telephone number and can be activated by calling 1-800-XFINITY. Per Call Caller ID Blocking will block name and number on a per-call basis and can be activated by dialing *86 before each call you want to block.

Potential Purchasers of our Business

If we enter into a potential or actual merger, acquisition, or sale of all or a portion of our assets, information about you and your subscription will, in most cases, be shared or transferred as part of the transaction.

Government and Other Entities When Required by Law or To Protect Comcast and Others

There are times when we may be required by law to disclose information about you to third parties. This may happen with or without your consent, and with or without notice, in compliance with the terms of valid legal process such as a subpoena, court order, or search warrant.

If you subscribe to our Xfinity Video service, Comcast may be required to disclose information that personally identifies you to a governmental entity in response to a court order. In this case, the Cable Act requires that you be given the opportunity to appear in a court proceeding to contest any claims made in support of the court order, and the governmental entity must offer clear and convincing evidence that you are reasonably suspected of engaging in criminal activity and that the information sought would be material evidence in the case. For more information, see "Your Rights and Our Limitations Under Federal Laws." A non-governmental entity, such as a civil litigant, can seek information that personally identifies you or your use of the Xfinity Video, Internet, or Voice Services only pursuant to a court order, and we are required by the Cable Act to notify you of such court order.

We may also disclose information that personally identifies you as permitted by law and without your consent when it is necessary to protect our customers, employees, or property; in emergency situations; or to enforce our rights under our terms of service and policies.

HOW WE PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION

We follow industry-standard practices to secure the information we collect to prevent the unauthorized access, use, or disclosure of any personal information we collect and maintain. These security practices include technical, administrative, and physical safeguards, which may vary, depending on the type and sensitivity of the information. Although we take the responsibility of safeguarding your personal information seriously, no security measures are 100% effective and we cannot guarantee that these practices will prevent every unauthorized attempt to access, use, or disclose your information. Comcast also takes additional steps to increase the security and reliability of customer communications. We do not read your outgoing or incoming email, file attachments, video mail, private chat, or instant messages. However, we (along with our service providers) use software and hardware tools to help prevent and block “spam” emails, viruses, spyware, and other harmful or unwanted communications and programs from being sent and received over Comcast.net email and the Comcast Services. To help protect you and the Services against these harmful or unwanted communications and programs, these tools may automatically scan your emails, video mails, instant messages, file attachments, and other files and communications. We do not use these tools for marketing or advertising.

HOW LONG WE KEEP YOUR INFORMATION

We keep your personal information for different lengths of time depending on the type of information and the business and legal requirements. For example, if you are a customer, we keep information that personally identifies you as long as you subscribe to one or more of our Services. If you no longer subscribe to a Service, we still may need that information for business and legal requirements, such as to protect against fraud, calculate taxes, or respond to legal requests. Other information is deleted automatically after a set period of time, often set by law, unless we are legally required to hold it longer, such as for pending litigation. We destroy, de-identify, or anonymize the information when it is no longer needed in identifiable form.

CHILDREN’S DATA

Most of our online services are intended for general audiences and are not directed to children. In areas of our Services that may be directed to children, we may collect personal information as described in this Privacy Policy, to the extent and as permitted by applicable law. We limit our processing of such information to providing the Services; communicating with you; understanding your use of and improving the Services; providing recommendations and personalizing the experience; providing contextual advertising and capping and measuring ads; and complying with law, preventing and investigating fraud and other illegal activities, and for other safety and security purposes. We share information with the categories of parties described in “When and To Whom We Disclose Information” above. To request more information about our processing of personal information collected in areas directed to children, or to request to access, delete, or correct personal information related to a child, please contact us at Comcast_Privacy@comcast.com.

THE CHOICES YOU HAVE TO CONTROL OUR USE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

You have many choices about how we communicate with you and how we use or disclose your information. You can manage these settings in the Xfinity Privacy Preferences Center (xfinity.com/privacy/your-privacy-choices). If you change your mind, you can update your preferences any time.

Learn more about your privacy choices

For your convenience, we have created the Xfinity Privacy Preferences Center (xfinity.com/privacy/your-privacy-choices), where you can manage:

- how we process personal information linked to your account for certain uses associated with audience measurement, analytics, and personalized advertising for third-party products and services based on your interests
- whether we use your sensitive personal information for personalized recommendations, advertising, and marketing
- your preferences regarding which cookies are stored by our website in your browser when you visit
- your preferences regarding communications, offers, and notifications from us

You can find out more about the choices you have and set your preferences. If you change your mind, you can return any time to update it. Some of the choices are limited to our use of certain customer information and may require you to sign into your account.

We understand that sometimes you may want to speak to a Comcast representative who can assist you with your choices. You can contact Comcast at 1-800-XFINITY and ask us to put your name on our internal company “do not call,” “do not mail,” or “do not knock” list.

If you subscribe to Xfinity Voice Service, when you are interacting with one of our customer service representatives, such as on a call, in our offices, or during an online chat session, we may ask you for your oral consent to the use of your customer proprietary network information or “CPNI” for the purpose of reviewing your account and providing you with an offer for other products and services. If you provide consent, Comcast may use your CPNI only for the duration of that telephone call or discussion in order to offer you additional services. If you deny or restrict your approval for us to use your CPNI, you will suffer no effect, now or in the future, on how we provide any services to which you subscribe.

Additional privacy preferences may be available to you on the devices you use to access the Services.

HOW TO ACCESS AND CORRECT THE INFORMATION IN OUR RECORDS

Part of our commitment to transparency includes giving our customers access to the personal information we have about them. If you subscribe to our Services, you have the ability to see and correct your personally identifiable information through your online account services.

Certain states may give you additional rights, as described in the “Additional information regarding other laws and individual rights” section of this Privacy Policy.

All individuals may also make requests to access and correct certain personal information, and to have us delete certain personal information through our Privacy Center by visiting xfinity.com/privacy/requests.

Learn more about how to access personally identifiable customer information

If you subscribe to an Xfinity Service, you may correct or update information in your account by visiting xfinity.com or by contacting us as described below. If you are an Xfinity Home customer, you can also correct or update your contact and emergency information in the Xfinity Home app. We will correct our records once we have verified that the changes you request are proper.

If you subscribe to Xfinity TV, Internet, or Voice Services and would like to see your own personally identifiable information, other than your customer proprietary network information (“CPNI”), you may do so at your local Comcast office. To do so, please contact us by email at Comcast_Privacy@comcast.com or by phone at 1-800-XFINITY, giving us a reasonable period of time to locate and, if necessary, prepare the information for review, and to arrange an appointment during regular business hours. You will need to have proper identification and will only be able to see the personally identifiable information in your account and no other account.

If you make a written request for a copy of your Xfinity Voice or Mobile CPNI, we will provide you with the relevant information we have by mailing it to your account address, or to any person authorized by you, if we reasonably believe the request is valid. However, subscribers to our Xfinity Voice and Mobile Services should be aware that we generally do not provide them with records of any inbound or outbound calls or other records that we do not furnish in the ordinary course of business (for example, as part of a bill) or which are available only from our archives, without valid legal process such as a court order. In addition, we cannot correct any errors in customer names, addresses, or telephone numbers appearing in, or omitted from, our or our vendors’ directory lists until the next available publication of those directory lists. Further, we may have no control over information appearing in the directory lists or directory assistance services of directory publishers or directory assistance providers that are not owned by us.

Comcast reserves the right to charge you for the reasonable cost of retrieving and photocopying any information or documents that you request, where permitted by law.

YOUR RIGHTS AND OUR LIMITATIONS UNDER FEDERAL LAWS

The federal Cable Act imposes limitations on our collection and sharing of information that personally identifies you when you subscribe to Services that use the facilities of the Comcast cable system. The Communications Act imposes restrictions on our use and sharing of CPNI when you use Services that are deemed telecommunications services.

Learn more about your rights and our limitations under federal laws

The Cable Act and Personally Identifiable Information

This Privacy Policy is designed to comply with Section 631 of the Cable Communications Policy Act of 1984, as amended, (the “Cable Act”). The Cable Act permits Comcast to use the cable system to collect personally identifiable information about you. Personally identifiable information is information that identifies you specifically; it does not include de-identified, anonymous, aggregate, or other data that does not identify you. We may collect personally identifiable information when it is necessary to render cable services or other services to you and to detect unauthorized reception or use of the services. We may use the cable system to collect personally identifiable information about you for additional purposes with your prior written or electronic consent. The Cable Act also permits Comcast to disclose personally identifiable information if the disclosure is necessary to render, or conduct a legitimate business activity related to, the cable service or other services provided to you; required by law or legal process; or limited to your name and address, subject to your opt-out consent. The frequency of any disclosure of personally identifiable information varies in accordance with our business needs and activities as described in this Policy.

If you believe that you have been aggrieved by any act of ours in violation of the Cable Act or other applicable laws, we encourage you to contact us directly at Comcast. Privacy@comcast.com in order to resolve your question or concern. You may also enforce the limitations imposed on us by the Cable Act as applicable with respect to your personally identifiable information through a civil lawsuit seeking damages, attorneys' fees, and litigation costs. Other rights and remedies may be available to you under federal or other applicable laws as well.

This Privacy Policy neither supersedes, enhances, nor modifies any arbitration agreement to which you may be bound as a subscriber to one or more of the Services.

The Communications Act and CPNI

Section 222 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (the "Communications Act"), provides additional privacy protections for information about the quantity, technical configuration, type, destination, location, and amount of your use of telecommunications services, including Xfinity Voice and Mobile Services, and the information about those services contained on your bills for those Services. This information is known as customer proprietary network information or "CPNI." CPNI does not include your name, address, or telephone number, which is defined by the Communications Act as "subscriber list information." However, that information is otherwise considered personally identifiable information.

If you are a customer of Xfinity Voice or Mobile Service, or another Service that is subject to these requirements, you have the right, and Comcast has a duty, under the Communications Act and other applicable laws, to protect the confidentiality of your CPNI. In addition, the FCC's rules provide additional privacy protections and choices regarding use and sharing that are specific to our Voice and Mobile service that we describe in this Policy.

CALIFORNIA NOTICE AT COLLECTION

California law provides California residents with rights to receive certain disclosures regarding the collection, use, and sharing of "Personal Information," rights to access, delete, and correct certain Personal Information we collect about them, restrict us from "selling" or "sharing" certain Personal Information, and limit our use of Sensitive Personal Information, as defined by the law and described in the categories below. Collection, Use, and Retention of Personal Information

The general section of this Privacy Policy describes the types of Personal Information we collect, how we collect it, how we use it in categories that are easy to understand. The CCPA requires us to disclose the Personal Information we have collected about consumers in the following categories. Some of the categories include very different types of information within the same category and certain Personal Information may fall into multiple categories. How we use and how long we keep the information within each category will vary^①, and not all types of information within the same category will be used for all the purposes listed.

California law also requires us to provide information regarding the criteria we use to determine the length of time for which we retain Personal Information. We utilize the following criteria to determine the length of time for which we retain Personal Information:

- The business purpose for which the information is used, and the length of time for which the information is required to achieve those purposes
- Whether we are required to retain the information in order to comply with legal obligations or contractual commitments, or is otherwise necessary to investigate fraud or other illegal activities, to ensure a secure online environment, or to protect health and safety
- The privacy impact on the consumer of ongoing retention, including the consumer's likely expectations in light of the sensitivity of information and our Privacy Commitments
- The manner in which information is maintained and flows through our systems, and how best to manage the lifecycle in light of the volume and complexity of the systems in our infrastructure

Individual pieces of Personal Information such as those listed above may exist in different systems that are used for different business or legal purposes. A different maximum retention period may apply to each use case of the information. Certain individual pieces of information may also be stored in combination with other individual pieces of information, and the maximum retention period may be determined by the purpose for which that information set is used.

Additional Information Regarding Maine Residents' Privacy Rights

Maine's Broadband Internet Access Service Customer Privacy Act generally prohibits providers of broadband Internet access service ("Providers") from using, disclosing, selling or permitting access to "customer personal information" without a customer's express, affirmative consent, which may be revoked at any time.

However, no consent is required for the collection, retention, use, disclosure, or sale of or access to customer personal information when such activities are required to:

- Provide the service from which such information is derived or for the services necessary to the provision of such service;
- Advertise or market the Provider's communications-related services to the customer;
- Comply with a lawful court order;
- Initiate, render, bill for and collect payment for broadband Internet access service;
- Protect users of the provider's or other providers' services from fraudulent, abusive or unlawful use of or subscription to such services; or
- Provide geolocation information concerning the customer:
 - For the purpose of responding to a customer's call for emergency services, to a public safety answering point; a provider of emergency medical or emergency dispatch services; a public safety, fire service or law enforcement official; or a hospital emergency or trauma care facility; or
 - To a provider of information or database management services solely for the purpose of assisting in the delivery of emergency services in response to an emergency.

A Provider may not refuse to serve a customer who does not provide consent when required or charge a customer a penalty or offer a customer a discount based on the customer's decision to provide or not provide consent.

A Provider shall take reasonable measures to protect customer personal information from unauthorized use, disclosure or access, taking into account the nature and scope of the Provider's activities, the sensitivity of the data the provider collects, the size of the Provider, and the technical feasibility of the security measures.

In addition, a Provider may use, disclose, sell, or permit access to non-CPI, unless the customer opts out.

MORE INFORMATION ABOUT SOME OF THE TERMS AND PHRASES USED IN THE POLICY

Below you can find illustrative examples and more information about the terms used in the policy that have ⓘ next to them.

Personal Information: Includes any information that is linked or reasonably linkable to you, your household, or your device. Personal Information includes personal data where such term is used in applicable laws.

Products, services, networks, and platforms: Examples of when this policy applies include: Xfinity TV and Streaming, Xfinity Internet, xFi and Xfinity Advanced Security, Xfinity Voice, Xfinity Stream app, Xfinity WiFi service, Xfinity Home, Xfinity Mobile, Xfinity Flex, Comcast Business Services, Effectv, Xumo, Xumo TV, Xumo Play.

Other products, services, websites, and applications: For example, if you use the Peacock app on your X1 or Xfinity Mobile phone, NBCUniversal's privacy policy will apply to the information collected through that app.

Third parties: Third parties are other companies that collect or maintain information about you and share it with us, such as credit bureaus who share information with us when you sign up for service and consent to a credit check.

Respond to your requests: In order to provide better customer service, we keep track of when you contacted us, what the issue was and what is the best way to get in contact with you.

Tailor our services: We collect data from third parties to better understand your interests and provide personalized offers.

Photographs: For example, we may take a picture of your porch or doorstep with the equipment we deliver to you or aerial photographs of our network to assess network safety and compliance.

Video selection and viewing activity: When you use the video services we directly provide, such as Xfinity TV and the Xfinity Stream app, we know what video selection you made in order to deliver it to you. When you access content from third-party applications on the X1, Flex, or Xumo TV platform, we will only know that you accessed that application, not what you do within those video selections unless you have allowed the sharing of this information.

To help us authenticate you: Some of our services can only be provided in certain geographic areas and require us to know that you are physically located at your service address in order to use them or access information.

Information provided when you integrate other services with our Services: For example, if you download or use another company's tools or features that are compatible with our Services, that other company will collect information about your use of those tools and features and may share additional information with us.

DNS: The address book of the Internet is known as DNS, or Domain Name System. It's how people navigate the Internet. Millions of Comcast customers look up billions of addresses online every day. We delete the DNS queries generated by our Internet customers every 24 hours except in very specific cases where we need to research a security or network performance issue, protect against security threats, or comply with a valid legal request. You may decide to keep that information in your account longer when you enable certain features, such as our advanced security services that allow you to see the websites that are blocked for up to 30 days. But we've never used that data for any sort of marketing or advertising – and we have never sold it to anyone.

Network traffic activity: Where you go on the Internet is your business, not ours. We limit our use of customer network traffic activity to assess how the network is performing; understand trends; stay ahead of capacity demands; build, test, and improve our products and services; and for fraud and security purposes. We do that with a sample of network data and we only connect our customer's network activity to particular individuals when necessary for security or fraud purposes, or required by law.

Xfinity Mobile: We don't sell, and have never sold, your location data when you use our Xfinity Mobile service.

Mobile apps: If you are using a mobile device to access our Services, we may need to know the location of your mobile device or other device in which you have installed one of our applications for certain functionality, such as connecting you to a nearby Xfinity WiFi Hotspot. We will request your consent to collect and use precise geolocation information before we do so. You can prohibit the collection of this information through your device's settings (see "Your Choices") but doing so may limit certain functions and features of our Services.

Demographic: Information like gender, age, and census records.

Interest: Information that indicates your interest in things like sports, travel, or cooking.

Purchase: Information from loyalty program or public records.

Facebook: If you interact with our Services on a device through which you also interact with social networks or if you interact with us through a social media function such as a plug-in (for example, a Facebook "like" button) then you may be permitting us to have on-going access to some information from your social network profile (such as your name, email address, your friend list, photo, age, gender, location, birthday, social networking ID, current city, the people/sites you follow, and so forth). If you don't want a social network to collect the information about you as described above, or you don't want a social network to share it with us and other third parties, please review the privacy settings and instructions of the applicable social network before you interact with our Services.

Measurement and analytics reports for us and others: We and service providers who work on our behalf may combine and use data from our business records – including account information, video activity data, and other usage data – with data from third parties to create measurement and analytics reports. These reports are de-identified or aggregated and do not contain any information that personally identifies you.

We use these reports for many of the purposes described in the Privacy Policy, such as for improving the Services, creating and delivering more personalized advertising on behalf of Comcast and other third parties, determining whether and how an advertiser's messages are viewed, and analyzing the effectiveness of certain advertisements on the Comcast Services and other platforms and services. We also use these reports to work with academic or research groups, and for other uses that help us develop and fund improvements in services and infrastructure. We may share these reports with programmers, advertisers, or others. To learn about the choices you have with respect to our use of your information for these purposes, visit the Xfinity Privacy Preferences Center (xfinity.com/privacy/your-privacy-choices).

Personalized advertising: The display of ads to you where the advertisement is selected based on personal information obtained from your activities over time and across nonaffiliated websites or online applications.

Non-Xfinity video app: For example, when you use Peacock on the X1, Flex, or Xumo TV platform.

Another company's platform or device: For example, when you use the Xfinity Stream app from devices operated by other companies, such as an Apple or Android device.

Vary: For example, the CCPA puts name and social security number in the same category. We may use your name to send you marketing materials for our products, but we will not use your Social Security Number for marketing or advertising.

Customer personal information: (1) Personally identifying information about a broadband customer, including but not limited to the customer's name, billing information, social security number, billing address and demographic data; and (2) Information from a customer's use of broadband Internet access service.
